Identify Project Objectives

During this initial phase, Intelliscan consults with the client to determine project specifications and goals.

Election Program Design

Utilizing online and mail voting options, Intelliscan works with the client to design a system to fit the specific needs of each election project.

Project Execution

Intelliscan manages the complete ballot distribution and vote collection process including:

- Election website design, hosting and data collection
- Printing and mailing of paper ballots
- Processing of ballot returns

Reporting of Results

Intelliscan integrates responses received via online and paper ballots to provide customized reporting of real-time and final election results.
